CLAIRE WINDSOR, film star (above) and her husband, Bert Lytell, actor, have separated, according to dispatches from Los Angeles. The pair were married at Juarez, Mexico, May 11, 1925. Divorce proceedings, it was said, will start soon.

U. S. PLANES TO BOMB NICARAGUANS GENEVA IN DEADLOCK

FIRE DIRECTED AT 'OUTRAGES' IN NICARAGUA

Revolutionary General Is Hunted By Squadron Of Airplanes

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, July 19.—American marines have swung into action to break up the bands of outlaws terrorizing Nicaragua. Rear Admiral David Foote Sellers, commander of the special service squadron there, reported to the navy department today.

Planes Bomb Rebels
Airplane squadrons have been sent out to bomb the rebels in an attempt to disperse them with a rain of machine gun bullets.

"Airplane reconnaissance continuing daily for information, with orders to prevent any concentration of rebel forces," cabled Admiral Sellers.

The American-trained Nicaraguan National Guard is on the hunt for General Sandino, leader of the forces which stormed the marines and guardsmen at Ocotal.

Sandino Hunted
Branded as "a band of outlaws" without backing of any political party, by Secretary of State Kellogg, there will be no let up in Nicaragua. In the drive against Sandino's forces until they have been captured and disarmed, it was indicated.

Romantic Tale Of 'Love That Endures' Held A Masterpiece

Court Intrigues In Old France Sparkle In Epic Story

"When A Man Loves," one of the world's masterpieces of enduring love, begins in the Record-Herald today. Set in a time when royalty and gallantry vied with roguery and intrigue, the story sweeps the reader along in compelling fashion until the daring denouement springs upon him as though from ambush.

"When A Man Loves" will be remembered for a long time after the pages on which the lines are written are laid aside. It is that kind of a story.

The revelry and pomp of the nobility contrasted with the slums of Paris and the terrors of the Bastille, form a powerful background for the love tales of Manon, beloved of all men, and Fabien, handsome adventurer and romanticist.

A dramatic smash spiced with action, suspense and mystery, Manon Lescaut is the heroine of this, the greatest love story ever conceived beginning in the Record-Herald today. Manon and Fabien fall in love and are swept into the cruel life of glittering Paris. Misfortunes engulf them until they are made prisoners and face death. Pluck and courage give Manon and her lover a new life in a new world.

A 'Go-Getter'

LIFE ON A TEXAS RANCH pulled on pretty 18-year-old Madge Evans (above), six months ago so she decided she'd be a Broadway star. She ran away from home. When almost broke she answered an ad in a Wallis paper and was hired by Carl Hemmer to dance in his new revue "Allez-Op," soon to open in New York. Which goes to show that a blue-eyed blonde is the original "go-and-get-what-you're-after" girl.

British Ace To Hop Off For America

Conditions Believed To Be Ideal For Flight To U. S.

LONDON, July 19.—Captain Courtney, the British aviator, plans to hop off to New York from Southampton at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The air ministry reports that the weather conditions are almost ideal, with moderate north-easterly and easterly winds over the Atlantic Ocean.

Captain Courtney completed the tests of his craft today. Satisfied with the equipment and the radio installations, Courtney, accompanied by Captain Downer, the navigating officer, and engineer Little, will head tomorrow for Valencia from Southampton, stop there long enough to refuel, and then carry on to Newfoundland.

The Dornier Napier plane carries a control indicator, designed to keep the flyers on their course through the cloud and fog. The indicator flashes red and green lights when the machine is off its course.

Hunt For Eureka Child Spurred By New Clew

Search was instituted here yesterday by Sheriff R. R. Veale's office for trace of little Lucile Davenport, 5, of Eureka, lost July 3, from a camp at Bull Creek Flats, 40 miles south of Eureka where her parents were camping. Impetus in the search was given here by the report of Mrs. Molly Johnson, realtor of Crockett, that last Friday or Saturday she saw a sedan driven by a gypsy, containing two girls about 16 years of age, and several smaller children, among them a very fair haired girl.

The child was described by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Davenport, as very fair. She wore a coat over her shoulders when she disappeared. She was in the habit of wearing it in the fashion of a cape with the folds thrown over her arms.

Sheriff J. W. Runner of Humboldt county yesterday requested Sheriff Veale to institute a search for the child because it was believed she had been stolen by gypsies. Every clue to her possible fate was run down in Humboldt county until authorities became convinced she had been stolen.

Instruction School To Be Held By Masons Here

A school of instruction will be held by Thomas Baker, grand lecturer of the Grand Masonic lodge of California with the assistance of Jacob E. Hughes, district inspector next Sunday in the Richmond Masonic Temple, 728 Macdonald avenue. The event will be participated in by McKinley, Alpha, Harbor and Point lodges of Masons.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. W. Utter of Los Angeles have started for home with Mr. and Mrs. William McPeake after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bonham of San Pablo. The McPeakes have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Thole of Mira Vista.

41 PER CENT IN STATE IN THE HARNESS

SACRAMENTO, July 19.—Only half the population of the state of California works, but the half which works supports the other half, according to a statistical report made today by L. F. Ross, director of the state bureau of statistics.

Forty-one percent of the population supports the other 59 percent which consists of wives, children and dependents, he announced.

The average wage in California is $1.70 a year, it was figured. The average person gains in supporting capacity at the age of twenty years.

Auto Traffic On Highways Shows Heavy Trend

More than 2200 automobiles passed the junction of the water front and state highways, near Pinole, between 5 and 6 p. m. Sunday. It was revealed yesterday, following a survey of a traffic check made by state checkers Sunday and Monday. The check, state-wide in scope, was made to determine traffic density.

With the opening of the Carquinez Straits bridge traffic at this junction has increased greatly. The density during peak roads is evidenced by the Sunday check between 5 and 6 o'clock, which shows an average of 35 cars a minute passing this point.

A check made at the same point Monday between 2 and 3 o'clock disclosed 550 cars passed the intersection in the one hour period.

Deeding Of Right Of Way Rejected

MARTINEZ, July 19.—Proposal of Arthur L. Bell, owner of a tract of land adjacent to the Alameda-Contra Costa inter-county tunnel, to deed a road right of way to the county in exchange for all water arising in the bore or water that might be encountered in construction of a second highway tunnel was flatly rejected by the board of supervisors yesterday.

With discovery that the present highway near the tunnel was constructed for a short distance over land that the county did not hold by deed, Bell proposed to make correction by deeding the necessary strip to the county. But when Bell's deed was received by the board and it was found to contain conditions binding the county to deliver to his property all water arising in the present tunnel or water that might be encountered in constructing a second bore the supervisors rejected the offer.

Lack of a deed, board members declare, will not affect the legal status of the highway inasmuch as the road has been maintained for so long a period that public right by usage can be established.

Salesmen's Division Told Of Importance Of Sales Education

The Salesmen's Division of the Contra Costa Board of Realtors discussed problems attendant upon its work, at a meeting in Hotel Carquinez last night. Chairman Paul Atkins emphasized the importance of the education of the salesmen through attendance at the meetings.

SIZE OF GUNS ON CRUISERS NEW PROBLEM

U. S. Representative To Conclave Denies Any Naval Agreement

(By Universal Service)
GENEVA, July 19.—A new deadlock now faces the Geneva naval disarmament conference.

This particular deadlock centers around the size of guns to be mounted on cruisers.

U. S. Stands Firm
The tentative agreement between Great Britain and Japan meets, in some degree, the approval of the United States delegates. But America stands firm on her refusal to accept the Anglo-Japanese proposals that cruisers of 7,500 tons and less be limited to 6-inch gun armament.

The Americans demand that only a small proportion of the cruiser strength of the American navy be limited to small guns, and that all others shall be permitted to carry 8-inch guns.

U. S. Skeptical
The agreement, tentative as it is between Great Britain and Japan regarding cruiser strength also is being examined by the Americans with some skepticism. The proposals set a tonnage limit of 500,000 tons for cruisers for the United States and Great Britain. America believes that this would be merely paper limitation so far as Great Britain is concerned.

Agreement Denied
LONDON, July 19.—Huge Gibson, American representative at the Geneva Tri-Partite Naval Disarmament Conference, tonight denied reports that an agreement had been reached by the United States, Japan and Great Britain.

In an interview over the telephone with Universal Service in London, Gibson said:

"There has been no agreement of any kind reached as yet." Gibson declined to comment on the tentative agreement reported reached by Japan and Great Britain.

ALL HAIL!
NELSONVILLE, O., July 19.—No women customers are wanted in the barber shop to Toby Davis, just opened. Davis has made it known to the entire town that the fair sex is not desired.

BANG! BOOZE!
(By Universal Service)
SANDUSKY, O., July 19.—Explosion of bottles during a barn fire near here today led to the arrest of the farm tenant on a charge of possession of liquor. The bottles, totalling more than two hundred, were filled with Canadian beer.

HARD ON THE CHICKS
(By Universal Service)
SACRAMENTO, July 19.—Newspaper accounts of deaths in San Francisco from poisoning due to the eating of mussels probably saved the life of Richard Stoneman, 4556 Ninth Avenue, and members of his family today.

Stoneman said he gathered a quantity of long neck clams at Dillons Beach, Marin county, Sunday, but after reading accounts of the bay city poisoning cases, decided against eating the shell fish and cut them up to feed his chickens. He reported sixteen of the chickens dead this morning.

Government Inspectors In Richmond To Stop Spread Of Pine Rust Diseases

As an emergency phase in the must go from a curant bush to control of the white pine blister a pine and from a pine again to rust disease, the removal of all the cultivated English black currants is gradually being extended throughout California. Two government inspectors, E. Spurlock and E. L. Anderson are now inspecting Richmond and vicinity for black curant bushes the most susceptible of all plants to this disease of the white pine trees.

The government inspectors have just completed inspecting Marin county and the work began in this county with Richmond. They report that nearly everyone is willing to sacrifice curant bushes to preserve the pine trees. The white pine blister rust disease is prevalent in Canada, Washington, and Oregon, and it is hoped that the removal of the currants will check the disease and keep it out of California.

The peculiar nature of the disease which requires an alternate host, the back curant, in order to spread, is used as a means of checking it. The disease will not spread from pine to pine but

Richmond To Be Represented At Building Meet

Suggestions for the revision of the tentative building code drawn up by the Pacific Coast Building officials conference, will be made when the central district of the officials meets Friday and Saturday at the Hotel Oakland. City Building Inspector A. J. Hurley will attend the meeting, representing Richmond.

The object of the meeting is to help the adoption of uniform building regulations in all the coast states. The present revised code will be discussed and put in form for presentation at the meeting of the officials in Phoenix, Arizona, in October.

The central district includes all of northern California down as far south as Bakersfield.

Guardianship Asked For San Pablo Girl

MARTINEZ, July 19.—Petition for letters of guardianship for Josephine Pettelli, 10, of San Pablo, was made by County Probation Officer Thomas A. Boyer today, asking that a settlement be reached in her claims against J. Braz and the Union Auto Insurance company. The child was struck by an automobile driven by Braz last February, it is alleged, sustaining injuries thereby.

JOHN BRYAN AWARDED FINAL DIVORCE DECREE

MARTINEZ, July 19.—John Adelbert Bryan of Richmond was today awarded a final decree of divorce from Rilla Bryan.

JUDGE ODELL UNITES S. F. PEOPLE IN MARRIAGE

Judge C. A. Odell married Drage Radonich, 20 and George Lubisa, 29, both of San Francisco, at his court yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Radonich is a bookkeeper in the Bank of Italy in San Francisco.

Reorganization Pends In C. C. Health Bureau

Action on a proposal to reorganize Contra Costa's public health department in order to obtain financial aid of $5000 from the Rockefeller Foundation and the California Board of Health has been deferred by the Board of Supervisors to July 28, to permit of time to consider problems in the present system.

The Rockefeller Foundation and the Board of Health have each agreed to provide $2500 for administrative purposes if the county adopts a public health organization suggested by these agencies. The county is asked to also provide $5000.

If the county board can devise a plan that will permit of retention of the activities of the Richmond Health Center and will not find it necessary to duplicate the expense incidental to that agency's maintenance it has been indicated that reorganization of the health department will be favored.

Definite action of the board on the proposal was scheduled today, but it was decided to forego a decision until the Supervisors July 28 session.

LOS ANGELES PEOPLE VISIT WITH MRS. EDITH BUTLER

Mr. and Mrs. Chas Knauss and daughters Hazel and Edith of Los Angeles are visiting at the home of Mrs. Ethel Butler of 600 Ripley avenue, for a few days, their next destination being Portland, Oregon. Mrs. Knauss and Mrs. Butler are old schoolgirl chums from Missouri.

TAYLORS BACK FROM TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Taylor and daughter, Elizabeth, have returned to their home at 119 Barrett avenue after a week-end trip to Stockton and Sacramento.

CONCORD FIELD IS ABANDONED

Concentration of the air mail operations of the postoffice department at the Mills Memorial Airport in San Francisco will necessitate abandonment of the Concord air field, according to an announcement by the postoffice department yesterday.

Crissey Field, in San Francisco which has been used as the point of arrival for transcontinental mails has also been abandoned. The Concord field had been used as the point of departure of the mails.

Under the postal department's order the Concord field will pass from usage within thirty days as a base for air mail pilots.

Jesse A. Potts To Serve 10 Year Term

MARTINEZ, July 19.—A ten year term in the state penitentiary has been handed down by the state board of prison directors in the case of Jesse A. Potts, of Richmond, sentenced on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. It was reported today by the county clerk, Potts has been convicted of a felony once before, it was said.

SPEEDERS FINED

F. C. Hoek, of San Francisco was fined $25 and J. Bassett of Richmond $20, when they appeared before Police Judge Q. A. Odell yesterday on charges of speeding.

TO HELL WITH THE BATTLESHIPS! GIVE US AIRPLANES!

CALVIN COOLIDGE, who is a good President because he keeps an eye on national expenses, may be sadly disappointed over the outcome of the naval conference which he called at Geneva to cut down the costs on ships of war.

We got into the conference to limit our tonnage and to save money. We proposed a total of 300,000 tons. Great Britain will not stand for this and now our ambassador offers to go up to 400,000 tons if she will come down to that figure. An increase of 100,000 tons in American ships of war will mean any one thing: An added burden on American taxpayers.

Great Britain will never cut down its navy for any nation on earth. She has a vast empire and needs more cruisers than any other nation. What she needs to protect her own dominions is none of our business, and to attempt to meet her half way by increasing our own tonnage is a wasteful proposition which will simply result in ill feeling.

When this country wakes up to the fact that one $1,500 depth bomb, dropped from a little $12,500 airplane, can wipe out a $50,000,000 battleship, America will be on the right road to real protection.

Ambassador Gibson is a good diplomat. He is doing what he is told. But the REAL diplomat will be the one who has vision enough to see that within ten years passenger airplanes will be crossing the Atlantic Ocean in forty-eight hours. Airplanes of war will find it no trick at all to do the same thing. Battleships will not travel any faster than they do now.

If the great minds in this country who worry over warship tonnage would call an AIR CONFERENCE for the protection of the United States from foreign attack from the sky, something more constructive would be accomplished than what may be expected from the back-fence arguments now going on at Geneva.

Henry Watterson, famous editor, added to his fame during the World War by yelling, "To hell with the Hohenbolls and the Hapsburgs." He would yell:—

"To hell with battleships! Give us airplanes!"

Anyhow, it's a lot more satisfaction to see the names of Lindbergh and Chamberlin in the headlines that it was Gray and Snyder.

What it's all about

By PAUL ALLEN

SOCIAL NOTE: OWING TO sudden rush of vacation the writer of this column will be absent from these parts for the next two weeks. Contrary to rumors he does not intend to investigate the quality of gas in a comet's make-up, nor has he made plans to hop to Paris and back. He proposes to remain strictly old-fashioned in observing his holidays. If news bursts about strange men being apprehended by cops for speeding, don't worry. It won't be this writer. His car does not go that fast.

TOURISTS OUT CHICAGO WAY had a lovely time when the gasoline supply stopped because filling station employees went on strike. We can't imagine any less pleasant vacation experience than trying to make headway in an automobile with a gasoline tank. If the situation continued a new industry would spring up—gasoline bootlegging. And then motor cars would drop dead in their tracks or go blind after taking a drink.

GASLESS CHICAGO RECALLS the war days when by common agreement automobiles everywhere in the U. S. A. were kept shut in their garages on Sundays. On Ocean Parkway, Brooklyn one of those heavily plying his way across the deserted road. "Do you need help?" we asked. "Not by a long way," the graceless old wretch replied. "I've been waiting for six years to cross the street, and today's the first time the traffic's stopped long enough for me to get over."

IT'S TOUGH TO GO AWAY, leaving so much unsettled in the world. At this writing it looks as though the Geneva arms conference was heading for a complete breakdown. Instead of cutting down the number of warships, there'll probably be new competition in building.

THE TROUBLE WITH THIS disarmament meeting, as we see it, is that there has been too much attention paid to naval experts. Each country's admirals want the most ships they can jockey out of the conference. The only practical way to get a reduction of ships is to let the taxpayers of the various nations send THEIR representatives to talk things over.

The Smartest Thing My Dog Ever Did

I told my little boy that the baby in the movies had been taken away by God.

"What is he going to do with the baby?" he asked.

"Why he's going to take care of it," I retorted.

"At the snapper table he said: 'Yes, he is.'"

"God has a lot of people to take care of, hasn't he?"

"Yes, why?"

"Well," he asked, "who does the man with a long fork take care of?"

(MRS. J. D. BELLA)

Of course, your dog does smart things. Tell the "Dog Editor."

When I first came to this country I did not understand English. I took a job as second butler in a wealthy family.

I stayed about three months and learned a sentence from the first butler. "Just hold the wire please."

One day while the first butler was out a lady came to the door and said she wanted to see Mrs. So-and-so. I told her, "Just hold the wire, please." Then she laughed at me.

How To EARN MONEY at HOME.

By Sara Spence

Thanks to your advice, I have secured all of the mending and darning that I have time to do. But I am not sure that my charges are what they should be. Will you please tell me what I should charge for common darning, also mending and patching. Also, tell me what I should charge for fine embroidery.

MRS. T. Charges for such work vary according to locality. A fair basis of charge for ordinary darning is about 25 to 30 cents an hour. For more difficult mending and patching you might charge up to 50 cents. The usual rate for fine embroidery is 50 cents an hour.

I have no hand of large collection of cotton remnants—mill ends in a wide variety of colors. I would like to put them to some use, as I need to earn a little extra money.

Aldia H.

Why not make patchwork quilts? Just now there is quite a vogue for old fashioned quilts, and they bring attractive prices. You might specialize in crib quilts, also quilts for single beds. Patchwork cushions—designed after the manner of the patchwork quilt—are also quite popular.

I want to read handwriting by mail. World I need a license? I think it would depend upon the way it was done. If you read handwriting by mail you would want to be paid for it. And you would ask your client to send you anything she pleased—or nothing at all. Let it depend on her. That in my opinion, would rob it of its objectionable features.

Mrs. Sarah Spence will answer all questions on "How to Earn Money at Home." Address her care of this paper.

Beauty Contest Winner Tells Of Attempts To Crash Movies

Editors note: This paper today begins the true story of a beauty contest winner in a mid-Western town in 1925, and her futile attempts to "crash" the movies in Hollywood.

The author's experiences, with her stark revelations of the fate of her sisters in their downward slide from Hollywood studios to Tia Juana brothels, is a sad commentary on the beauty contest "system."

CHAPTER 1

I am a beauty contest winner. Hundreds of my sisters, disillusioned after they, like me, had tried vainly to "crash" the picture studios in Hollywood, are literally prisoners in countless resorts that dot the highways from Los Angeles to Tia Juana, Mexico.

I write this to save other girls from their fate. My series is an open letter to those girls, in every town and hamlet in America, who seek to win fame in pictures via the "beauty contest" route.

Girls, it can't be done. You aspiring Mary Pickfords, would-be Clara Bows, Coleen Moores, and others, who even as I write plan to enter the beauty contest in your home town, BEWARE.

This is the "open season" for beauty contests. Newspapers, dance halls and other institutions are seeking their "Miss" and "Miss" that. Ballots are being circulated; votes are being counted.

The bait is a siren career in Hollywood. Contracts are offered winners, pledging the lucky girl a position as a rival of Gloria Swanson.

"Tie-ups" have been effected with gown shops, shoe stores and other purveyors of feminine appearances. Beauty parlors give free marceils and facials. Everything is done to strew with roses the lucky girl's path to screen success.

Yes, the winner will get her contract with a film production firm. Her fare will be paid to Hollywood. She will get a free wardrobe from the town modiste. But that contract will provide, perhaps, for only six weeks work at a paltry $50. Her ticket will be stamped "one way" and it's a long way back. And that flashy wardrobe will show ravages of wear before its owner "clicks" in pictures.

Then, the beauty contest winner, a queen in her home town, will find herself one of hundreds, many more beautiful than herself, in distant Hollywood.

She will learn that her presence is not essential to the box office success of Elrot Brothers' big superspecial. She will find herself the prey of every assistant director and petty "yes man" on the film lot.

Unless she is strong willed, she will be obliged to seek their favors, to trade a caress for a "bit" as an extra girl. She will accept a job for $16 a week in one of Hollywood's big cafeterias.

Then, down the ladder, trading affection for finery, companionship for cash, and in the end—Tia Juana and its dregs.

I won a beauty contest in 1925. I spent two years in California, Hollywood and its environs. I "took the treatment," as they say I saw it at first hand.

In tomorrow's paper the writer will tell how she won a "framed" contest, of her trip to California and her reception there.

Copyright 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc. John Barrymore in "WHEN A MAN LOVES" is a Warner Bros. Picture.

CHAPTER I

Fabien Remy to become a Priest

It was a glorious May morning filled with great promise of happiness and love.

The Chevalier Fabien Des Grieux, a romantically poetic youth, talked quietly with some fellow graduate students at the White Horse Inn, at Amiens, while waiting for the Paris diligence to carry them on to St. Denis, to meet their training for the priesthood.

Fabien's parents belonged to one of the first families of Picardy and he gallantly reflected the fact that he was a gentleman of the highest type. He was a great favorite with his student associates and the inhabitants of the town. His life had been so well regulated and studious that his masters had pointed to him as a model of conduct for other scholars. Not that Fabien made any sacrifices or efforts to acquire this reputation, but a naturally tranquil disposition and a love for study had made him apply his time to work and duty. He had an inborn dislike for vice that was accepted as positive proof of virtue.

Fabien had earned his title, of Chevalier, by being decorated with the cross and when the Bishop of the Diocese proposed that upon graduation he enter the church, Fabien accepted the honor as one entirely to his liking.

Presently a lay brother rode up to the inn and, leaving his mount outside the gate, began searching for Fabien among the people at the little iron tables in the yard. He was greatly relieved to learn from one of the students that the youth he sought was in the tavern. The kindly old man's mission was important and his face lighted up.

Lescaut shrugged his shoulder.

Her elder brother, Andre Lescaut, resplendent in the gay uniform of the Guards, watched her narrowly from his sprawled out position on the other side of the diligence.

"What's the trouble, little sister? Are you already turning up your pretty nose at the thought of convent life?" Lescaut inquired quizzically.

"No, no, brother dear," Manon hastened to correct him, at the same time trying to control her trembling lips. "My only thought is to do as you wish and not worry you—because you are all I have."

Nevertheless, at the prospect of lonely convent life, Manon buried her face in the great pink bow on her kitten's neck so that her brother, and perhaps the other occupants of the diligence, would not see the tears that came in spite of her efforts to keep them back.

Her elder brother, Andre Lescaut, resplendent in the gay uniform of the Guards, watched her.

with great sympathy and love when he saw Fabien talking with Jean Tiberge, a loyal friend and fellow student—need never worry about the company that Fabien found congenial!

"My son," said the lay brother, taking a little medal from his belt and quietly presenting it to Fabien. "It is a reward for protection against worldly evil—the Bishop gave me to give it to you before you leave us to complete your training."

Fabien bowed in reverential thanks over his brother's hand as he accepted the holy token. A divinely spiritual expression spread over his face. He could not refrain from thinking how little he needed such a charm. Worldly pleasures and appetites could never tempt him from his studies and calling! And those who knew him were just as sure of this as Fabien himself.

"Ah! Fabien, I am delighted," broke in Tiberge, putting his arm about his friend's shoulder. "You have earned that reward in all fairness. None of us can equal your brilliance and unselfish devotion."

"I deserve no credit—I have simply found my calling and everything else follows along naturally." "Perhaps that is true," agreed Tiberge. "It is quite characteristic that you take no credit for anything you do."

A beautiful smile lighted up Fabien's face as he heard his friend's compliment.

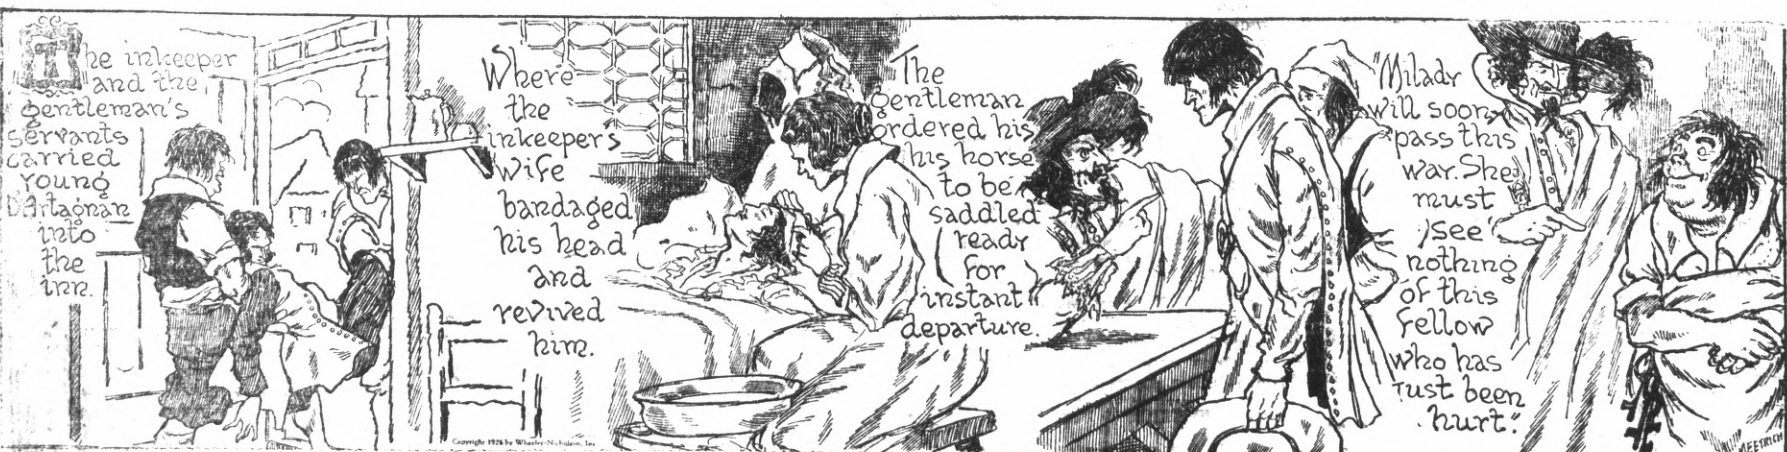

"You know, Tiberge, my greatest regret at leaving here is that you are not ready to depart at the same time. It is difficult to leave a loyal friend with whom one has grown up. I shall never forget you, and your thousand good qualities. We shall meet again, later on when we become—"

The remainder of Fabien's sentence was left unfinished when the students in the courtyard loudly announced that the diligence was appearing down the road.

The soft green leaves danced gracefully on their swaying branches and gently brushed against the dusty diligence as it wound along the narrow road through the sunshine.

VISITORS FETED BY MUSGATEATS AT MEETING

"Visitors night" was observed by the Musgateats club last night in the South Richmond Improvement clubhouse. New comers from San Jose and Richmond were entertained by the club. The following visitors were present: Mrs. and Mrs. H. L. Bert of San Jose; Dr. G. B. Meyer, San Jose; Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Meyer of Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. Lou Keadner of Richmond; and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Rhodes and son Henry, of Richmond. Mrs. Marie Lee Kelly was hostess for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bert of San Jose, who were among the visitors invited to the club to visit them in their home city. The club will decide when to accept the invitation at their meeting next Tuesday.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. David Mayo in the absence of Mrs. Nellie Lalonde, who is on her vacation. Bert Ten Eyck resigned his position as guard, and was replaced by Miss Mary Mayo who was duly installed for the unexpired term.

The evening was spent in a social way after the business meeting with whist and dancing being the features. The following whist winners were announced: Mrs. W. Davis, E. P. Meyers, Miss Jane Martin, Lou Keadner, Mrs. David Mayo and C. M. Kelly. Music for the dancing was provided by H. K. Martin and Mrs. Ethel Ten Eyck. This was followed by a watermelon "feed." The hostess for next Tuesday night will be Mrs. H. K. Martin.

Softness Keynote in Velvet Hats

RONALD COLMAN AND VILMA BANKY AT CALIFORNIA

Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky, who have been in the California theatre today in "The Night of Love," returned to the world of the cinema via Clara Bows initial Paramount starring production, "It," in "It" Madame Glyn has photographically explained the theory which has endeared the globe and puzzled millions of people.

"It" arrives today at the Richmond theatre, is the story of a little flapper who rises herself from the depths of poverty to the heights of affluence only because of that peculiar power, "It," which has been imbued in her since birth. People are attracted to her as she enters a room, yet the one man Clara would like to win pays no attention until she gets him by a ruse, only to lose him when he suspects her of infidelity. Then:

Well see "It" Antonio Moreno is featured opposite Miss Bow. Clarence Badger, director of "Facts to Paradise" and "The Campus Flirt," produced "It" with Madame Glyn as lead.

Other film features include "Fresh Faces," a roaring comedy; and the latest Fox News events.

Supporting Colman and the beautiful Vilma Banky in roles that critics everywhere have acclaimed their best characterizations is a distinguished cast including Monte Love, Natalie Kingston, Laska Winter, Myman Bynumsky, Sally Rand and the Marion Morgan Dancers, who glide about the lavishly sets during the bacchanalian Other features include "Teacher, Teacher," a Lloyd Hamilton comedy; and "What Nots," a screen novelty; and International News.

Local Talent Is Lions Feature

Every one did his bit, and the program of the Richmond Lions club yesterday was a huge success. Purely local talent provided the entertainment for the day. Dr. Thomas A. Boyer spoke on the topic, "Four Men Under One Hat" and was heartily applauded.

Varied music was provided in both quartet and solo numbers by Attorney T. N. Calfee, Charles Donnelly, Ernest Flores, H. H. Mylander, and Fred Newsom. Councilman Al Paulsen functioned with a cornet solo ably assisted at the piano by Dennie Shaw. Ernest Flores sprang into popularity on the instant with vocal solos.

Harry Watson presided as the chairman of the day, and President, an Riordan officiated during the meeting.

Attorney Tsar N. Calfee will umpire the baseball game between the Kiwanis and Lions next Friday. Captain Bob Smith of the Lions baseball team stated. Enthusiasm is at fever heat, and both aggregations are out to win.

FORMER HUBBY OF DIVA HELD FOR BAD CHECK

Declaring himself once more disillusioned, Floyd Glotzbach, former chauffeur for and husband of the late Margaret Matzenauer, celebrated diva, was lodged in the San Francisco city prison yesterday on request of Portland authorities. The specific charge is forgery.

"It's an old case," he declared, "but I thought it had been settled some time ago." Further, he refused to comment.

Detective Sergeants John Delah and Arthur McQuade, who with operatives of the Burns Detective Agency arrested Glotzbach, reported, however, that the case is far from settled.

Telegraphic word from Sheriff T. M. Hurlburt of Multnomah county, Oregon, they said, informed them that Glotzbach is now under indictment, accused of signing the name of Mrs. R. D. Inman, wealthy Portland widow, to a check for $5,000. Before the alleged forgery, Glotzbach, employed by Mrs. Inman, drove her on a transcontinental motor tour, police said.

Collection on the purported forged check, police say, was made on the Hibernia Commercial bank of Oregon, through the Crocker bank of San Francisco five months ago.

Since leaving Mrs. Inman's employ, Glotzbach has been living at 725 Van Ness avenue and has been employed as chauffeur by a local family. Extradition proceedings will be started at once, police declare.

Glotzbach suddenly rose to prominence with his marriage to Mme. Matzenauer. While acting as her chauffeur in Del Monte in 1921 he became intimately acquainted with the grand opera star. She declared him the "perfect man" and retained him as her private chauffeur. Then they were married in Carlsbad, Germany, and a tour of Europe followed.

In a series of signed articles subsequently published, Glotzbach declared the honeymoon tempestuous. He returned to America "disillusioned."

A divorce followed and Glotzbach has since tried his prowess at pugilism and movie acting. These resulted only in further "disillusionment," so he returned to his original vocation.

She said that revolutionary doctrines misrepresented the message of Christ.

G. O. P. MEET TO BE IN S. F. SAYS CROCKER

(By Universal Service) NEW YORK, July 19.—William H. Crocker, Republican National Committeeman for California, who journeyed from London where he attended the wedding of his daughter, announced today that he is very confident that the Republican National convention of 1928 will be held in San Francisco.

After a luncheon with Charles D. Hall, vice-chairman of the National committee, and Jerome B. Landfield of the Metropolitan club, Crocker declared:

"I want the President and National chairman William M. Butler to know that a majority of the members of the National committee have expressed themselves in favor of holding our next National convention at San Francisco."

"Their slogan is 'we are going to San Francisco.' Of course we can't go there. But no one of them can at this time command more than three or four votes, and their combined total does not menace the safe majority San Francisco has obtained at the National committee."

"We are greatly indebted to Vice-Chairman Hilles for the splendid work he has done, and is doing, to bring the convention to our city. We should have been well helped without his powerful co-operation."

"San Francisco is the ideal place in which to entertain the delegates. We have a splendid auditorium seating 12,000. Our hotels are the best in the world except perhaps those in New York. They are all new and their proprietors have pledged themselves to charge only the rates which now prevail. Railroad companies have agreed to reduce round trip fares by more than a third."

"Our financiers have underwritten a fund of $250,000, with which to meet the expenses of the convention. Our people are as madly anxious to get the convention as they were the exposition of 1915."

"They demonstrate their wonderful hospitality during the thousand conventions held during the 1915 exposition and the Democratic National convention of 1920."

"We have no positive assurance that President Coolidge is ready to accept a renomination which he can have. It seems to be politically wise to hold a convention in a section where there can be no local rivalry about a candidate for the presidency."

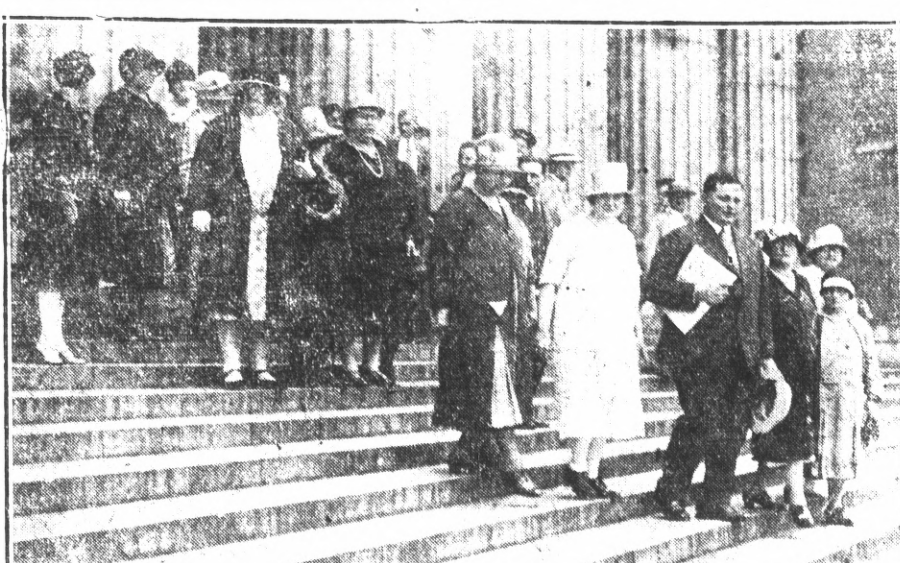

"California has no candidate. If there is to be a contest between Coolidge, Lowden, Dawes or others, it is no political expediency that the contest shall be fought on neutral grounds."

"I return to San Francisco tomorrow bearing good news. I know our people will be delighted to hear of the progress made toward capturing the National convention."

Crocker said that he doubted if William G. McAdoo will be backed by many delegates from his home state for the Democratic presidential nomination. He agrees with Democratic National committeeman Isadore Dockweiler that Gov. Smith of New York will have generous support from party men in California.

Obregon Gives Views Of Mexico On U.S. Relations

(Copyright 1927, Universal Service) By GEORGE W. HIXMAN, JR. MEXICO CITY, July 19.—Mexico must "continue to maintain with energy and decorum" its right as a Sovereign state to legislate in accordance with its national interests. In the opinion of General Alvaro Obregon, the most cautious of the Republic's three soldier candidates to succeed President Calles.

At the same time, the former president today takes the position that his country must recognize the "limitation which international law imposes upon all Sovereign states as between themselves."

In addition, this qualification, General Obregon places his finger upon the essential difference between the viewpoints of the United States and Mexico in the recurring conflict between the two nations. As the United States asserts Mexico's legislation violates the principles of international law by operating retroactively to confiscate American properties, Mexico denies the charge.

The general's declarations must be considered, too, in the light of the fact that his campaign manager and senior advisor in the of Obregon with us in the development and exploitation of our natural resources. Then, we may be better known by honest American capital.

"This honest capital always will be ready to make known the truth among the American people when the grasping interests of Wall Street try to twist the truth to provoke conflicts and international crises between the state department and the foreign office."

As has happened several times, General Obregon also maintains that Mexico must be "extremely cautious with the investments which the imperialistic interests of Wall Street attempt to make in its territory."

PRETTY BOUTS ON THE CARDS AT EL CERRITO

By far the greatest bunch of real fight stars are listed to appear at promoter Joseph Rossi's El Cerrito club Friday night.

Pete Meyers, the hardest punching boxer who ever drew a glove around here, will be the top feature and will face a man that hits every bit as hard as he does. Pete meets Billy Hickman of San Jose. Hickman has been boxing main events around San Jose for several years and has held his own with the best and also has a long knockout record. Some one may be put to sleep in this fight and it will be a question who lands first.

Tim Vahey who beat Joe Egan here some time back will also box six rounds. Tim is in the semi windup and meets John Ramos a hard hitting colored boy. Fans all know what Tim can do.

The six round special will feature Johnny Lawson who has been fighting for several years in Los Angeles. Frayo was beat by Bennie Viera here his last start but has improved since then and against Lawson should make a good showing.

Cliff Hottegger is on with Walter Peterson of Los Angeles and they do say as how Peterson and Hottegger have it in for one another. Seems as though Hottegger and Peterson worked out together in Oakland a few weeks ago and both hit the floor. Both got real sore and before any further damage was done they were separated. Billy Bernheim Rossi's matchmaker happened to see the bout and immediately signed the combatants up.

Hal Yont former S. F. Olympic heavyweight idol meets Frenchie the coalman and Joe De Maria meets Johnny Lario. Its a real sign of a sell out.

Dempsey Hopes That Sharkey Will Trade Punches With Him

(By Universal Service)
SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., July 19.—On the eve of the departure for the battleground of New York, Jack Dempsey, in jovial frame of mind, declared:

"Will somebody please slip the word to that young Mr. Sharkey that I'll be in the big town Wednesday and that on Thursday, I'm going to knock him onto his pants."

Dempsey's last day in camp here was one during which he devoted his energies mororly to keeping his muscles tuned with light exercises—and looking forward eagerly to the fray of Thursday night.

"I'm getting an awful kick out of this idea of fighting again without carrying the bulky load of championship into the ring with me," he declared. "I don't think I ever fought as well after being champion as I did before because while champion I always had something to protect and to worry about."

"Now, I'll have nothing to protect but my chain. And I'm not worrying about that. I'm not so sure that Sharkey is going to slap it with a solid shot. And, if he should happen to do it—well, the old concrete is still there."

"And what a lot of fun I'm figuring on having by planting a few left hooks on Sharkey's liver department. Of course, the young man may elude me for a while as they say up in Boston, but it won't be for long. And then—well, we'll see how fast Mr. Sharkey slows up when I crack him a few there."

While Dempsey's hired help labored in packing up preparatory for departure for New York, the ex-champion gave them a helping hand occasionally—but far more often he gave them a few headlocks or some gentle tap, which nearly caved in their ribs. When any protested, Dempsey was profuse with his mock apology:

"Oh, excuse me, I thought your name was Sharkey."

If Dempsey is doing any worrying about the outcome of the Sharkey battle, he conceals it deftly. By word and deed he is brimful of confidence. He reiterates that he never felt more fit for battle since training for the Carpenter fight six years ago—and his entire attitude reflects his rekindled spirits.

Dempsey today is an exact contrast to the nervous, fretful and usually scowling, or morose Dempsey of Atlantic City last September. There was realization there that he wasn't right. There is evidence now that he is right.

A flicker of a grin came on Dempsey's face several times as he sat in his cottage today and when someone asked the reason why, he laughed and assured:

"I'm just thinking what these 'hollow shell' experts will be saying about themselves Friday morning; those fellows you know, who have been writing to the home folks that I'm just an old timer puttering around and going nowhere except to New York to take a beating from Sharkey."

"Gosh, how busy those birds will be thinking up their Friday morning alibis. I'll certainly enjoy reading them."

"Do you think you'll flatten Sharkey?" Dempsey was asked.

"Sure—I think that way," he replied. "But I'm not trying to name any round. That young man

Ed Sullivan's SPORT WHIRL

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., July 19.—Trainers of thoroughbred race horses furnish a parallel case to the playwrights who work along Broadway.

The race track has its Belascos and occasionally the track produces a trainer who rivals the sensational success of Anne Nichols, the lady who had more luck with a rose than Thorley had with a whole greenhouse.

I spent a day at the beautiful Saratoga track yesterday visiting the Greentree establishment, which is owned by Mrs. Whitney, and the Whitney Stables, which sports the colors of Harry Payne Whitney. These are the greatest of American turf establishments, their breeding farms and actual racers representing a bigger investment than the Ranocas or Widener stables.

Jimmy Rowe, veteran trainer, close to 75 years of age, is the master of the Harry Payne Whitney stable.

Yonkful Fred Hopkins, a Vermont, assists him and so does Jimmy Rowe, Jr.

Clyde Phillips, from Oklahoma, is the trainer of the Greentree stable.

The veteran Rowe, in forty years or more of experience, has handled more great horses than any trainer in the business. Start with Runymede, the original Runymede, and go down through the years and at every stage of the game you will find Jimmy Rowe adding the greatest American thoroughbreds.

Phillips, the Greentree trainer, has been in the game for thirty years, ever since he was a kid. He has had plenty of good horses, horses that under his grooming won big stakes, but Phillips, unlike Rowe, has never had a horse that stood out.

Turn to Fred Hopkins, the youngest trainer in the game. He is 36. Already he has saddled Whiskery, a Kentucky Derby winner and Bostonian, winner of the Preakness.

The business of writing plays is a good deal like the business of training horses. Getting a "hit" show is as difficult as getting a really great horse in your stable. It is largely a matter of chance, and not always dependent upon the ability of the playwright or trainer. Luck is always a factor.

Rowe is the Belasco of the track. Fred Hopkins is the Anne Nichols of the track, and Phillips is kin to those playwrights who produce consistently good shows, but never stumble upon an "Able's Irish Rose."

TURF VETERANS DIFFER ON MAN O' WAR

Difference of opinion, so they say, makes the ponies run. That is difference of opinion as it is reflected in betting.

You will find that opinions differ all along the line in the racing game.

Rowe, the gentleman from Fredericksburg, Va., who saddled horses at this track back in 1885, for instance, says that horses and fighters of today are not up to the standards of long ago.

"It may be that I'm getting old, living in the 'yesterdays,'" snarled the fine old gentleman, "but I think that the fighters of long ago were twenty-five pounds better than the fighters we have now."

"And the horses of long ago, Colin, Sysonby, Domino, were pounds better than Man o' War and Crusader and the rest of the stars of today."

"The jockeys were better too, Jimmy Nutter, who had the leg up on Regret when she won the Derby for me, was one of the first riders I ever saw. Isaac Taylor, the little colored jockey, was a great jock. He could get more out of a hand-ride than the present-day jocks get out of the whip."

Clyde Phillips, the Greentree trainer, on the other hand, says that Man o' War was the greatest horse he ever saw.

"He was a freak horse," says Phillips. "Never did I see a horse that could do what Man o' War could do. His racing stride was like a slow-motion picture. Mean on the track, but a rumpled fool. His success in the stud proves that he is a freak product."

FRED HOPKINS IS SITTING PRETTY

You will go a long way to find a youngster of 26 who can look ahead to the future so confidently as Fred Hopkins.

He is the youngest trainer in America, and he is connected with the H. P. Whitney stable, the greatest in the game.

Hopkins was born in Shelburne, Vt., a country that is not particularly noted for horsemen. The South and the far West are the incubators of jockeys and trainers, but not Vermont.

Hopkins got into the racing game through the fact that his father owned a stock farm that bred and sold polo ponies and hunters.

Jimmy Rowe, the veteran, took a liking to him and today Hopkins is hooked up with biggest stable in the business.

Rowe turned over Whiskery and Bostonian to Hopkins a year ago and the youngster justified his confidence by winning both the Preakness and Derby.

may have a fast bicycle, you know and all the more or less experts say I'm a slow old man. So it may take me some time to catch up with him and sit him.

"Unless, of course," added Dempsey, "unless—Sharkey decides that he'll step right out and slug it with me. How I'd like that—W O W."

Most of the Dempsey crowd—Gus Wilson, Jimmy Detarr, Leonard Sachs, Martin Burke and the others left this afternoon for New York, taking the night boat from Albany.

Dempsey's plans call for departure on an early train Wednesday, accompanied by Police Lieutenant Fred Tapscott, Leo Flynn, Jerry Lavadis and Joe Benjamin. Upon arrival in the big town, Dempsey will go to the Hotel Belmont and remain in semi-seclusion there until he goes to the fight arena Thursday night.

Sharkey Is Made 8 to 4 Favorite Over Ex-Titlist

NEW YORK, July 19.—Heavy bets are being laid on the forthcoming Dempsey-Sharkey battle, with Jack Dempsey the favorite at odds 3 to 2 and 8 to 5, it was stated this afternoon by Frank Salinsky of the brokerage firm of W. L. Darnell & Co.

"There is plenty of Dempsey money," said Salinsky, "and for that matter plenty of Sharkey money, too, only the Sharkey people don't want to give better than 7 to 5 odds. That's what has slowed up the putting up of some of the Sharkey money."

"Big bets are being laid in New York and all over the country on Dempsey. He has a big backing. I handled two bets today, one of $2,000 against $5,000 and another $2,000 against $4,000 that Dempsey would win on a knockout. Most of Dempsey's admirers figure he is more likely to win on a knockout than on a decision while Sharkey might win by either a knockout or a decision."

"I estimate that up to date there has been $400,000 bet on the fight, and the betting will become heavier from now on."

S. O. TOSSERS TO TAKE PART IN KRAUSE DAY

Four Standard Oil League tossers will participate in the exhibition ball game to be staged by the old-timers as part of the "Harry Krause Day" celebration at the Oakland ball park a week from next Saturday afternoon.

Other familiar figures in Standard Oil baseball that will appear in the game are Frank Schulte, former All Standard; "Brick" Devereaux, Barrie Hoag, coach; and Arlie Schimpff, Barrie House second sacker.

Devereaux, former Oak and Santa Cruz State League player, has promised to dip up one of his old-time uniforms for the game.

RICHMOND BOY TO GET TRIAL WITH BROWNS

James "Jiggs" Wright, local fireman pitcher, will leave today for St. Louis, where he will join the St. Louis Browns of the American league. The big righthander received his transportation yesterday and will leave today for his first chance in the "big show."

Wright had his first chance in organized ball in 1922, when he joined the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast League for the tag-end of the season. Reporting the following spring at the Oaks' camp at Myrtleide, Wright was farmed out to the Bloomington club of the Three I League for further seasoning.

Something went wrong in the Bloomington camp, however, and Wright was shipped to a league of lower classification—the Kitty League, where he played the 1923 season with one of the Kentucky clubs in the circuit. The big fellow had a wonderful season and his sale to the New Orleans club of the Southern League was almost consummated when he hurt his arm and had to return home two weeks before the season closed.

Since that time Wright has had a trial with the Kansas City Blues of the American Association but failed to make the grade.

The big righthander is a greatly improved pitcher now, however, and should make a much better showing. He is one of the fastest twirlers in the bushes and has a good change of pace.

HEART TROUBLE

Marvelously Relieved

While visiting her daughter here in Oakland, Mrs. W. T. Morton of Stockton was in such great pain due to Heart Trouble that it affected her left hand. She could neither walk nor rest. With the slightest effort. All the physicians whom she consulted expressed the opinion that she had not more than ten days to live. She truly seemed to be at the point of death when she took Wan Herbs. It was cooked for her at home, and that night she had the first rest after many weeks of terrible suffering. After four weeks of the Fong Wan Herb Treatment, she was able to return to her home in Stockton. From that city she has sent the following testimonial to the Fong Wan Herb Co.

OWES HER LIFE TO FONG WAN HERBS

Stockton, Cal., March 21, 1927. To the Fong Wan Herb Co., I have been a sufferer with valvular trouble of the heart for some time. I became so ill that my doctors, who were many, gave me but a week or ten days to live.

I decided to try the Fong Wan Herb Co. and to the amazement of all who attended me, I was able to walk into their office after taking the Herbs one week. I have now taken them four weeks and I not only have a good heart, but I have also been helped in other ways. I cannot speak too highly of the Fong Wan Herbs, and I owe my life to them. I am very grateful to Fong Wan for his kindness.

DELTA HIGHWAY TO BE OPENED NEXT SATURDAY

SACRAMENTO, July 19.—Plans for an opening and dedication ceremony on Saturday, July 23, to fittingly celebrate the completion of the last link in the Sacramento river highway between Sacramento and Oakland, are being unfolded by the route, the initiative having been taken by the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce.

Communications have been addressed to the civic organizations in Rio Vista, Isleton and Antioch, asking them to take the lead in the celebration program, inasmuch as these three communities are on the section just being finished, the eleven mile stretch from Rio Vista to Antioch bridge. This section has been built under a joint highway district agreement between Sacramento and Contra Costa counties, with assistance by the state. Sacramento county's share of the expense has been $223,450, that of Contra Costa county, $50,000, and the state $50,000. The road is built of reinforced concrete 18 feet in width, seven inches in thickness and with reinforcing strips ten inches in thickness at each side and down the center.

When it is finished and the contractors have promised that the last touches will have been made by July 23—it will mark the cementing of the last gap in the western end of the transcontinental Victory highway, cement surfaced from Colfax to Oakland, 152 miles.

It also furnishes a new all-paved link between Sacramento and Oakland, marking the shortest route between the Capital City and the bay district, and the most scenic. For many miles this highway follows the levees of the Sacramento river, unfolding constantly changing river vistas of interest, level with the tops of highly productive pear and other deciduous fruit orchards. It traverses the heart of the Sacramento delta district, 120,000 acres of level silt land, which in variety, quantity and quality of products far exceeds the long-famed Valley of the Nile. Every known American vegetable is grown commercially in this delta district, including practically all the world's supply of asparagus, and the large share of California's production of celery, potatoes and their leading vegetable crops.

Fire Directed At "Outrages"

garrison conducted themselves with distinguished gallantry, magnificently supported by our patriots, till the report from Admiral Sellers.

President Coolidge was called upon to see that the marines engage in no more hostilities in Nicaragua, by the Women's International League.

Bombing Held "Inhuman"
The league sent to him a telegram, describing the marines' bombing of Sandino's forces as "inhuman."

The Peoples' Reconstruction League wired President Coolidge urging him to return from South Dakota to Washington at once and end "this illegal and brutal violation of the rights of the Nicaraguans."

"The slaughter of hundreds of Nicaraguans by American marines illegally kept in Nicaragua to protect property is an international outrage," said the message.

"Wholesale murder" was the charge leveled at the American marines in the battle at Ocotal, last Feb. 2, when Washington representatives of the Sagua or Liberal forces in Nicaragua, in a state, said today.

Nicaragua's Secretary of State, Kelllogg, by Solomon De La Selva, Nicaraguan delegate to the pan American Liberal Conference here, said the State Department on an investigation of his case.

Information has reached Secretary Kelllogg, it was learned, that De La Selva was formerly in the employ of Mexican revolutionists, General Sandino's attack upon the American marines, instead of weakening the determined policy of this government in Nicaragua, has served to intensify it, State Department officials declared.

On behalf of Secretary Kelllogg, it was stated the American government will keep its hand in Nicaragua until complete order has been restored.

Poor Box Burglar Admits Robbing 14,000 Churches

UPPER SANDUSKY, Ohio, July 18.—The audacious Ray K. Marsden confessed robber of thousands of Catholic churches, claims that he has obtained about $81,000 from poor boxes in 14,000 churches in the United States, Canada and China.

Marsden, who has many aliases, among which is the well-known "Key Man," is in the Wyandot county jail here awaiting trial on a charge of robbing poor boxes, stealing the sacred mace of the Blessed Virgin from Our Lady of Consolation church, at Carey, Ohio, and black-mailing the Rev. Father Aloys Fish, the pastor of the congregation of that church.

He was indicted by the grand jury on these charges recently, but by his confession and exposure of a gang composed of four of his alleged accomplices who are now under arrest in Bromley, Ky., he expects to obtain mercy.

The men in custody Marsden has named as participants in many depredations and vandalism exploits in Southern Ohio, and Kentucky are John and Perry Vogt, brothers and Clifford "Chippie" McArthur and Albert "Shag" McArthur, also brothers.

Pal Steals Chalice
John Vogt, he claims has stolen chalices worth $15,000 in his possession.

The colorful story of Marsden's life is filled with daring exploits and narrow escapes from the whistling bullets or pursuing police. From all, however, he emerged without ever having been hit, he says.

Born forty-one years ago in Janesville, Wis., Marsden has spent more than half of his life in prison. While living as a free man he has squandered a fortune and today he sits in his cell, a lonely figure, sadder but wiser. According to his story he has a high school education and obtained a business training in a reformatory at Green Bay, Wis. He was married young and took his young wife, he says, to a city in Illinois, where he expected to reside. After he secured a job he learned that it would be several days before he could start work. His money was going fast and with just enough left for car fare he sent his wife to her home. It was after this that he discovered he could make easy money by robbing the poor boxes in Catholic
